HPV and COLPOSCOPY COURSE

4-5 September 2026, Cappadocia

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the organizing societies, we are pleased to invite you to the International Colposcopy Course and Symposium, jointly organized by the Turkish Society of Gynecologic Oncology (TRSGO) and the Turkish Society for Cervical Pathology and Colposcopy (TRSCCP) with the support of the European Society of Gynaecological Oncology (ESGO).

This two-day international scientific meeting will be held in the unique setting of Cappadocia, Türkiye, bringing together leading national and international experts in colposcopy, cervical pathology, and preventive gynecologic oncology.

This symposium is made possible through the longstanding dedication and efforts of Murat Gultekin, MD, who has contributed for many years to the advancement of preventive oncology within ESGO. Together with Nejat Ozgul, MD, President of TRSCCP, we are honored to host colleagues from around the world who share a commitment to improving cervical cancer prevention and colposcopic practice.

The scientific program will feature:

- * State-of-the-art lectures on contemporary colposcopy and cervical cancer prevention
- * Discussions on current and future techniques in preventive gynecologic oncology
- * Video-supported interactive case discussions with expert panels
- * Practical insights into diagnostic accuracy and modern colposcopic management

Our goal is to create a dynamic and highly interactive scientific platform, fostering knowledge exchange and collaboration among clinicians, researchers, and trainees.

Beyond the scientific program, participants will have the opportunity to experience the extraordinary landscape of Cappadocia. A special social program has been prepared, including an unforgettable sunrise experience over the iconic valleys of Cappadocia, one of the most memorable highlights of the region.

Your participation will greatly enrich the meeting and strengthen our international collaboration in preventive gynecologic oncology and colposcopy.

We would be honored to welcome you to this unique scientific gathering.

With our warmest regards,

M. Faruk Kose, MD, President
President of TRSGO

HPV and COLPOSCOPY COURSE

4-5 September 2026, Cappadocia

Learning Objectives

1. Increasing knowledge and understanding of the pathogenesis of HPV diseases and cervical pre-invasive diseases
2. Determining the utility of prevention strategies among women at risk for HPV disease
3. Improving the knowledge and recommended skills for diagnosing and treating cervical neoplasia
4. Improving the skills in diagnosis of colposcopy, LEEP and other surgical skills
5. Emphasizing the importance of comprehensive management and multidisciplinary approach of clinical problems in anogenital region
6. Discussing the practices, challenges and successes in different international communities

Let's work together on improving the quality and introducing the standards of colposcopy in our work.
